MetraTech Selected as Finalist for 2009 Microsoft Worldwide Partner Conference Awards

WALTHAM, Mass. and LONDON, June 24, 2009 – MetraTech Corp., the innovative charging, billing, settlement and customer care product provider, has been named as a 2009 Microsoft Worldwide Partner Conference Awards finalist in Communications Sector Partner of the Year.

“We are proud to be recognized by Microsoft as finalist for this award,” said Scott Swartz, chief executive officer, MetraTech Corp. “The value added by our dynamic approach to billing, charging, settlement, and customer care in the telecom market is critical for monetizing innovative business models in today’s changing business environment, enhancing capabilities to rapidly launch and monetize new services. This offers a tangible benefit to both our customers and theirs.”

Awards will be presented in a number of categories, with winners chosen from a pool of nearly 2,000 entrants worldwide. The Communications Sector Partner of the Year award is given to a communications sector partner that has added business value to customers by deploying new and innovative solutions based on Microsoft technologies in hosting, media and entertainment, or telecommunications industries. The award recognizes a partner whose solution has targeted a customer’s business or technical challenge either by identifying a new opportunity or by using technology innovation to address the need.

“Partners are the key to igniting business innovation through great technology as well as helping customers drive down costs,” said Allison L. Watson, corporate vice president, Worldwide Partner Group, Microsoft Corp. “Congratulations to the 2009 WPC Award finalists who have demonstrated a superior level of expertise as well as a focus on delivering customer value. We look forward to seeing these partners fulfill their limitless potential as they continue to provide customers with world-class Microsoft solutions.”

The Microsoft Worldwide Partner Conference Awards recognize Microsoft partners that have developed and delivered exceptional Microsoft-based solutions over the past year.
